Dispute Over Wage Control Delays Wage-Price Freeze Order

Delay Action On Price And Wage Controls Order

Dispute Over Wage Controls Holds Up Price-Wage Freeze

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—A dispute over wage controls stalled the government's price-wage curb plans today and some stabilization officials forecast further delay in issuance of a freeze order.

The long-awaited directive, first promised for Thursday and then put off until today, may now be held up until Saturday.

One factor in the picture is that both the stock exchange and commodity markets will be closed Saturday afternoon and would not be disturbed by the drastic anti-inflation decree.

Reason for Delay

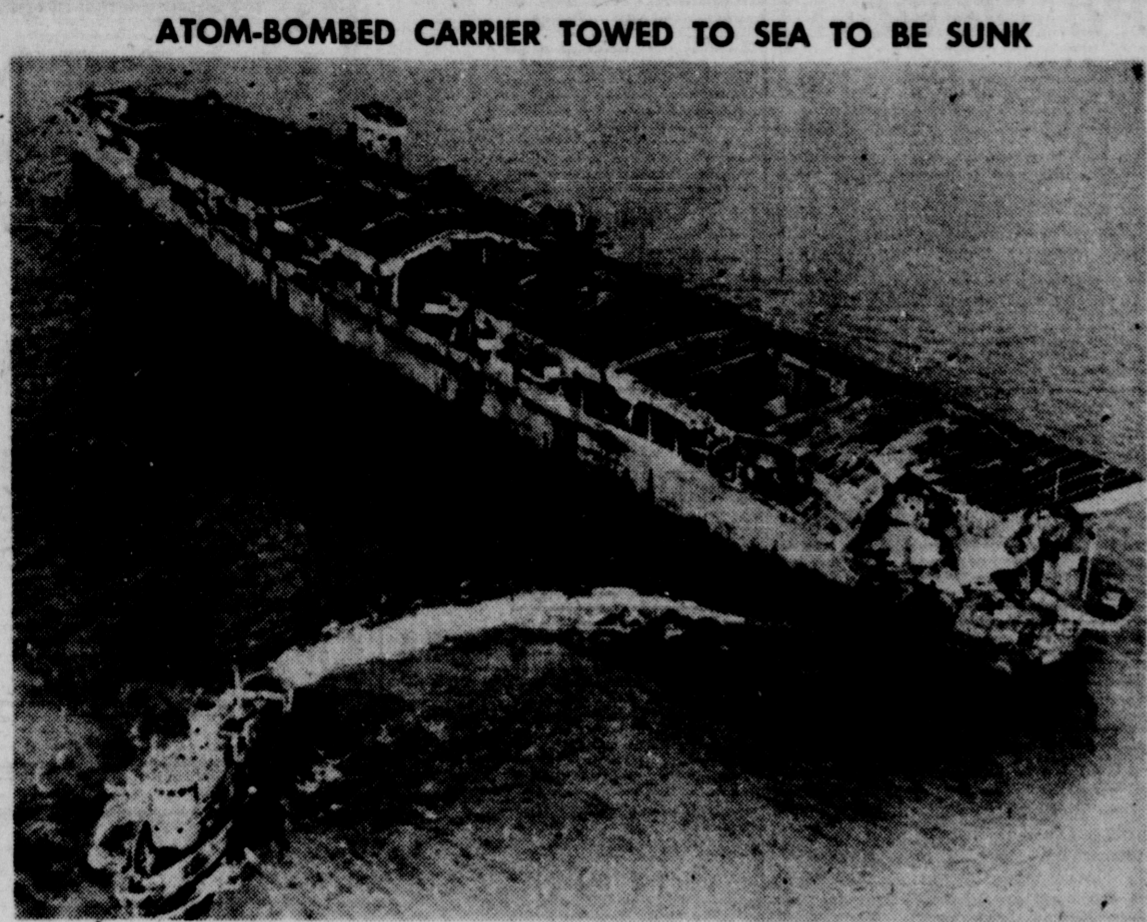

The chief reason for delay, however, is said to be the wage tangle. Price officials asserted they could have moved at any time in the past two days but are taking advantage of the postponement to polish up their order.

Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson and Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston are expected to be thoroughly questioned about the situation in a scheduled appearance this afternoon before the joint congressional economic committee.

Labor members of Cyrus S. Ching's nine-man wage stabilization board reportedly have flatly refused to give their endorsement to any wage "freeze"—even though temporary.

Officials believe that the pay freeze will have to be ordered by Johnston, who supervises the operations of both Ching and Price Administrator Michael V. Disalle.

The wage board, comprised of Canada Urges Conference Of Seven Powers

Would Seek Speedy Agreement On Korea Cease-Fire Move

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 26.—Canada proposed in the United Nations today the convening of a seven-power conference within a week at Lake Success or New Delhi for speedy agreement on a cease-fire in Korea.

At the same time, Canada revealed its intent to support the U. S. resolution for branding Red China an aggressor and for designating the collective measures committee to look into the question of punitive steps.

Support U. S. Resolution
Australia and New Zealand also have joined in support of the U. S. resolution. This leaves Britain alone among the commonwealth nations at the side of India, although Sir Gladwyn Jebb as British delegate at U. N. yesterday cautiously lined up with all but the punitive steps of the U. S. resolution.

Canadian Foreign Minister Lester B. Pearson, who is one of the three members of the U. N. cease-fire group, intervened to break the deadlock developing between the U. S. resolution and that of the Asia-Arab bloc calling for a conference with Peiping. Pearson offered no formal resolution on his proposal.

Seven-Power Conference
In outlining a seven-power conference, the Canadian named the U. S., Britain, France, Russia, Egypt, India and Red China as participants. But he underlined that the immediate concern of the group must be to seek a cease-

Cold Wave Hits Midwest Area

Dakotas In Center Of Frigid Belt

(By International News Service)
A cold wave stretched southwest across the nation from the Dakotas to Florida today and U. S. weather bureau forecasters said no relief is in sight.

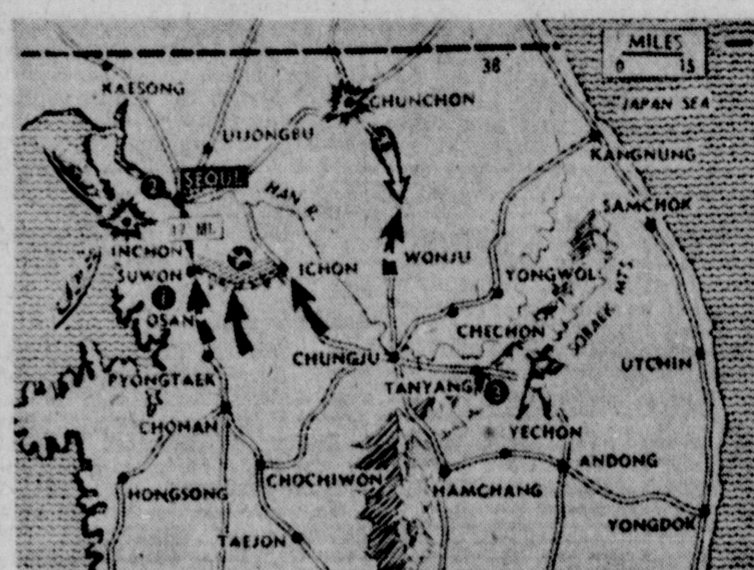

Temperatures ranged from well below zero in North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin early Friday to a chilly 41 degrees in Miami.

The cold—which weather observers said was "drainage" from an intensely cold large air mass in western Canada—fastened its grip on the eastern half of the U. S. and dropped the mercury below freezing in the eastern gulf states.

Dakotas Coldest
Snow fell in a narrow band from Montana southeastward into Iowa and snow flurries were predicted for the Great Lakes region and the northern Appalachian states.

Coldest in the nation early Friday was Grand Forks, N. D., which

May Draft Men Married After Korean War Start

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The house armed services committee considers today drafting non-veterans who married after the U. S. entered the Korean war last June 27.

While the committee wrestled with the problem of increasing the draft pool of eligible men, the defense department and selective service put a brake on the rush of draft-eligible college men to re-enlisting officers.

Orders were issued permitting students to pick their branch of service and then obtain a "postponement of induction" until the end of the school year.

Under Consideration
An influential armed services committee source disclosed that the draft of post-Korea husbands, along with other moves, was under consideration in the hope that enough men could be obtained for a 3.5 million-man armed force without drafting of 18-year-olds.

The spokesman emphasized that this represents one of several plans being studied to increase the number of draft-eligible men in the 19 through 25 age group. Whether the committee will adopt such a plan is problematical.

If it did, it would probably write into the administration's manpower legislation a provision that men who married after June 27, 1950, shall, for the purpose of the draft, be considered single and subject to induction.

Only single non-veterans aged 19 through 25 are now being called up by selective service.

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, U. S. S.)

TOKYO, Jan. 26.—The major hub of Suwon, 17 air miles south of Seoul, and its key airfield were captured today by tanked U. S. Eighth Army troops spearheading a limited offensive toward South Korea's Red-occupied capital.

American and other United Nations forces of two U. S. Army corps pushed north along a 25-mile front in Western Korea in the second day of a comeback drive that met stiffened enemy resistance in the center but little on the flanks.

The biggest UN assault since the retreat from North Korea began was announced at 9 p. m. Friday night (7 a. m. EST) in an Eighth Army special communique which declared:

"A limited objective attack, not heretofore released, for security reasons, jumped off at 7:30 a. m. Thursday (5:30 p. m. Wednesday EST) in the western sector of the UN line."

Supported by Tanks
"The attack, composed of strong elements of Maj. Gen. Frank Milburn's First Corps and Maj. John Coulter's Ninth Corps, was supported by tanks."

DELAY ACTION ON PRICE, WAGE CONTROLS

public, industry and labor representatives, apparently will confine itself to announcing a long-range formula to supplant the freeze—a flexible policy allowing certain regulated adjustments.

It is believed the formula will allow for wage boosts of ten per cent since the outbreak of the Korean War, the general pattern in the auto, steel, coal and other fields. Workers who have not received such a boost ultimately will be able to bargain for increases to that extent.

The price freeze is designed to last until the Office of Price Stabilization can work out ceiling prices on individual items on an industry-by-industry basis.

Disalle said the price order will involve some rollbacks but declined to specify the rollback date.

His agency Thursday ordered hide prices rolled back to the highest level reached last November 1 and November 30 to prevent threatened shoe price increases.

But there was no indication that officials are considering any such extensive roll back in the general price freeze order.

KEY AIRFIELD AT SUWON ALSO RETAKEN TODAY

ported by tanks and artillery and was planned and coordinated by the two corps commanders.

"Late Thursday the attack had progressed to points formerly considered by friendly patrols, generally in the Suwon-ichon area (a 25-mile line), averaging about six miles north without encountering any major resistance.

"The friendly attacking forces buttoned up for the night on their forward positions and resumed the attack early-Friday morning.

"Little ground was gained throughout Friday as resistance stiffened in the center of the attackers' line. Only minor resistance was encountered on the flanks as aggressive patrolling continued."

Suwon Is Taken

The first important prize won by the two-corps assault was the rail, highway and air center of Suwon, taken late Friday by west flank UN forces which then shot vanguards considerably north of the walled city.

International News Service War Correspondent Fred Waters reported from the western front at 10:14 p.m. (8:14 a.m. EST) that Suwon's valuable airport was seized before the city itself was entered.

He said light UN planes already were landing at the field.

The recovery of Suwon on Korea's chief rail-highway route leading up to Seoul was termed the "Most dramatic single event in the startling reversal of the war's tide" since Seoul was lost to the Chinese and North Korean invaders.

Resistance Stiffening

Around the junction city of Kunyangjang, nine miles east of Suwon, waters reported that Red resistance was "stiffening." The dispatch said that a bayonet charge by Eight Army troops, coordinated with air and artillery bombardment, "claimed at least 500 enemy dead—all Chinese" in that area.

Suwon was entered without the firing of a shot after the air-supported UN tank and infantry assault column had routed Chinese Communist troops two miles south of the principal southern gateway to Seoul itself.

Waters reported from the scene that civilians began returning to "shattered" Suwon in large groups when enemy forces to the north launched a "heavy" 120 mm mortar bombardment of the city.

The Communist mortar fire "sent troops and civilians alike to cover," the dispatch related, but the enemy fire lessened later in the afternoon and one Eighth Army patrol was "reported tonight at an undisclosed distance north of Suwon."

Intend To Hold

Waters quoted an unidentified divisional commander who led his forces into Suwon as declaring: "We intend to hold these positions."

This indicated that the weeks of Allied hit and run patrol probing thrusts were at an end and a new phase of the war was beginning.

Eighth Army engineers immediately went to work on the big Suwon airfield and UN planes were able to land there within a few hours of its liberation from Communist control.

North of Suwon, tank-paced UN patrols speared up the principal road toward Seoul after five Allied warships shelled the Korean capital's port of Incheon, silenced its shore batteries and swept the harbor for mines.

The spectacular capture of Suwon, achieved on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's 71st birthday, came as a gift to the UN supreme commander on this occasion, highlighted offensive strokes along the whole front. These thrusts were designed to bring the enemy's main forces into combat.

county. They resumed their task early this morning. Roads in the north county section were rather icy this morning, Alfred A. Martin, county superintendent reported.

On Thursday afternoon, Craig Kennedy, of 810 East Washington street, while cutting shrubbery around his yard, came upon a large cocoon, which he opened and found the larvae of a large butterfly or moth.

Pa Newc noticed yesterday that repairs are being made to local streets, which are on the state highway system. The rough winter weather of the past two months has resulted in large patches of blacktop coating being shelled off, and highway employees were filling these in on Jefferson street Thursday.

Having recently seen an item in Pa Newc column in regard to holly trees, and a person claiming to have the only holly tree in this community, Mrs. Floyd Houk, of 637 South Ray street, states that she has a splendid holly tree in her back yard, which is about 15 feet high. This tree had quite a small beginning about 25 years ago.

The dangle earring—the little blob of pearl or silver that you see hanging from the dainty ears of almost every young miss of today has made a hit in New Castle! This is a fact revealed today by salesman who service the stores in New Castle as well as stores in towns that surround this city.

Usually in the past, New Castle is cautious in accepting new fad, fashion or idea—that is to any great extent. But when the "dangle" earring came in style, caution was thrown to the high winds. According to accurate reports, New Castle leads in sales of the "dangle" more so than even larger cities in this area.

PERFECT AND IMPROVING

General Ridgway did violence to the textbooks when he described the military situation on the central front in Korea. He said it was "perfect and getting better all the time." But only a Chinese Communist would take issue with his grammar. It sounded good to Americans, who would be happy to see perfection improved upon.

It is apparent, despite the tight censorship, that his statement was not pure optimism. U. S. forces are still holding the line they fell back on when they gave up Seoul. They have been aggressively feeling out the enemy by constant patrolling, which should be assurance that a new push would not take them by surprise. They have used reconnaissance in force to inflict punishing losses while keeping their own casualties light.

That is enough to show that the U. S. command is making full use of its superior weapons and superior transport. Another part is the war of attrition that has been carried on unceasingly by the Far East Air Force. The claim of 60,000 Chinese and North Koreans killed or wounded since November 24 may be somewhat high. But it is certain that the enemy has suffered heavily.

But the situation could change again. The increasing number of Russian-built jets in Korean skies may be a portent. With air support the Chinese Communist armies would be a much greater threat than they are now. As of today the situation may be getting better than perfect but it could grow worse.

RUSSIA SEEKS TO DRIVE WEDGE

Russia's handling of the recent American, British and French notes on possible four-power talks show striking variations. The notes Moscow was answering were much alike. The American note, though not provocative, was probably the firmest of the three. The British note was somewhat more polite. The French communication was definitely conciliatory.

To the American note, Russia has thus far sent no reply at all.

To the British note, Moscow's reply was moderate in length and tone, merely reiterating without special emphasis what has been said in previous notes.

To the French, Russia's reply was long—and full of dark, vaguely menacing hints.

Although the Russian replies were the latest in a long exchange concerning details of a proposed four-power conference, they show no interest in such a conference. Instead, they are devoted to answering western charges and inventing counter-charges. Apparently Russia has lost interest in discussions since the western powers proposed broadening the talks to include other subjects than German rearmament. But she has not lost interest in making propaganda to pin the war guilt for any bolshevik aggression on its eventual victims.

And it is notable that she has replied to firmness with silence, to formality with formality, and to a conciliatory attitude with a tone of intimidation. The prime purpose of Russia's dissimilar treatment of the three notes is clear. She is trying to drive a wedge between France, Britain and the United States.

SHIPS FOR PEACE OR WAR

The traditionally joyous greeting accorded the fast new American "luxury liner," the Independence, at its home port of New York hailed a ship which fully deserves that description. Here is a vessel of 26,000 tons equipped with spacious staterooms, with private baths, promenades, saloons and, notably, galleries from which the less vigorously inclined can watch the activities of swimmers in a big pool aft. The Independence is a vast floating "Grand Hotel" which has everything.

Back of all this, however, is the grim fact that the Independence, like its sister, the Constitution, now in construction, is built for ready transformation for troopship service in an emergency, reminds the Philadelphia Inquirer.

That is an extremely important arrangement, as emphasized by Vice President Barkley last summer when he spoke in Camden at the launching of another vessel, since turned over for defense use. Mr. Barkley declared that the nation needs at least 50 more new ships. It needs them, as he said, to build up the American merchant marine along modern lines and constructed—as in the cases of the Independence and the Constitution—to give the country in time of dire need a big fleet of transports.

A consistent national policy to create and maintain a merchant marine with such great potential value in emergencies should be regarded as one of the essentials for the defense of America. And in these dangerous times the need for it is imperative.

Psychiatrists say that lying always leads to failure. To the boys in the Kremlin: Please note.

It is now revealed it may be necessary to take more ships out of mothballs. The same may be true of statesmen.

An American humorist once said, "It is better to know nothing than to know what ain't so," but that was in a more prosaic age.

In Detroit a man named Romeo and his ex-wife, Juliet, accused each other of striking blows. There's an angle that even Will Shakespeare overlooked.

Latest Appeal By Nehru

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India stepped to the forefront again with a new appeal for direct negotiations to end the Korean conflict.

And this time he had greater implied support from Great Britain on the subject of Communist China's recognition.

The recent house of commons speech by Prime Minister Attlee on Korea is conclusive proof that the British want to take advantage of every opportunity to end the war and clarify all Far Eastern issues without going to the extent of branding China an aggressor and levying sanctions against her.

Welcome in London
It is axiomatic, therefore, that any proposal from Nehru is welcome to London. For if nothing else, it seems certain to delay still further any definite United Nations action on an American resolution placing the burden of blame for the Korean war directly on Peiping.

There is considerable speculation in diplomatic circles, however, as to why Nehru chose to strengthen his position as potential arbiter during the recent conference of British commonwealth prime ministers in London.

He had a ready-made opportunity on his front porch. It concerns the status of Kashmir, the wild, rugged mountainous state that is in dispute between the dominions of India and of Pakistan.

The situation in Kashmir is this: When British troops were withdrawn from the sub-continent of India, both the new dominion of India and the dominion of Pakistan claimed the province.

The population is largely Moslem—as is Pakistan. But the maharajah and the ruling classes are Hindu—as is India.

Attempts were made to shift populations but tribal rioting developed and the Indian government dispatched an army to Kashmir's rugged hills. There was considerable open fighting which at one time threatened to spread over all of India and Pakistan.

The United Nations took up the matter and a program was laid out which at least has succeeded in maintaining a precarious peace.

Called For Cease Fire
This called for a cease fire effective January 1, 1949, withdrawal of Indian troops and free elections. The cease fire has remained effective, but Nehru has not evacuated his troops and no progress has been made toward elections.

At the commonwealth conference, three separate proposals were made to Nehru and to Liaquat Ali Khan, the prime minister of Pakistan.

All Khan was ready to discuss all of them. But Nehru remained adamant in refusing the bids for compromise. There have been bitter charges that Nehru fears to face elections because of the likelihood that the Pakistan Moslems would vote against Hindu India.

When Nehru first started bidding for Korean peace and made special contact with the Communist regime at Peiping in the hopes he might achieve it there was a wave of approval throughout the Orient.

Large segments of opinion in that part of the world hold that the Korean problem is one that should be handled by Asiatics and Nehru, because of his position and prestige, was a logical leader.

Because of his attitude toward Kashmir, however, he is now being accused of inconsistency.

This accusation is not entirely new, however, regardless of whether it has any foundation in fact.

Nehru is the son of an immensely wealthy and aristocratic family. Yet he joined with Mohandas K. Gandhi at an early age and often lived a life of extreme austerity.

His opposition to Communism as a dictatorial form of government. Nevertheless, he has by his own admission applied Communist principles to a certain degree in Indian agriculture and industry.

While certain aspects of the situation now are not entirely in his favor, Nehru retains the respect of millions and any solution he offers for Korea will command a certain element of attention throughout the world.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MOVING IS HARD FOR CHILD

Several times during recent years I have in this column discussed the adjustment problems facing the child who moves with his family to a new community and new school district—new playmates, new schoolmates, new teachers, new ways of teaching, new schoolbooks and new curriculum. For instance, in the new school the work in reading, spelling, or arithmetic may be one grade or more advanced over the work in the former school.

"Dear Dr. Myers: I never thought I would be writing to you for advice for I am a graduate of a State college in home economics and, of course, did take both child psychology and child development in my college years. But I really do need your help. Linda, age 7½, has just entered her fourth school for this fall term. Her daddy works for one of the major rubber companies and is on a production training job just now and we are being transferred around the country. We do expect to be here in Alabama for some while.

Made Adjustment
"Linda attended a school in last year where we had always lived. We were transferred here in November. Our sixth grader Julie has made the adjustment beautifully, but Linda found the work very much behind, particularly in arithmetic. She is a child who kept up with her class easily—and then to find herself in a school which is so advanced has upset her so terribly. They are adding and subtracting up through 6's—and she didn't even know how to write a problem down. Let alone the answer, when we came here.

"I showed up first with her refusing to wake up in the morning. Then her tummy began to hurt and she felt nauseated on the following days. I visited the school and had a long talk with the teacher, who was a little too outspoken in front of Linda. I felt, criticizing her reading, writing and number work, but she really seems to want to help Linda but Linda feels like such an outsider. The teacher had these same pupils last year and has been training them on numbers since the middle of first grade. School has been haunting Linda. She even at night, her sisters tell me (not in Linda's presence), her little face looks peaked, and dark circles are under her eyes. She's normally a happy little girl—always singing and whistling. I am so concerned about this adjustment because I know many nervous illnesses in later life date back to some such experience as this in childhood.

Tried To Help
"We have helped her catch up on her work. My husband has had some fine discussions with the principal, who is very acquainted with Linda's situation.

"We have tried to be specially loving to Linda through many family games and interesting conversations."

How I wrote the mother: Fortunate is Linda to have parents so kind and appreciative of her and her hard problems. Perhaps I cannot suggest any improvement of your good ways. However, it is possible that a gentle primary teacher working with Linda on arithmetic for half an hour a day could help her more than you parents can, as Linda is not her child I am enclosing my "Home Helps in Arithmetic." (To be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.)

Feels Inferior
Then big sister's success could cause Linda to feel very inferior. I hope she does not talk of her own success or try to help Linda. Try to cause Linda to consider good grades in arithmetic less important than she does.

Linda may not enjoy her schoolmates or home playmates. Anything you can do to help her win more successes in this direction should help.

Perhaps you should have Linda checked carefully by your physician.

THE BACKWARD JOURNEY
Who sees the old-familiar things To can the memory fondly clings.

May find that men and time and change Have left them friendless, cold and strange.

Remembrance keeps the long-lost joys But swiftly time their charm destroys.

On ground where once I used to play, Stands now an office building gray.

The street still has its simple name, But those who dwell there aren't the same.

Strangers appear where friends I knew; To them I am a stranger, too.

In memory boys live on as boys And safe is all that time destroys. But age and death and men and change Make swiftly all that's cherished, strange.

State Police Say:

Please don't assume that Junior is an expert driver because he has passed his drivers examination and has been issued an operator's license. Junior will need much more coaching and supervision before he can qualify as an expert. Dad didn't qualify as an expert simply because he had a hunting or fishing license issued to him. Parents can do Junior a great service if they will carefully supervise his driving once he becomes legally qualified to drive.

Washington Calling

Pressure For Diplomatic Posts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Political pressures are once again being applied to the State Department to find suitable diplomatic posts for deserving Democrats anxious to shine in the world. In one instance in particular this pressure has resulted in acute embarrassment in the department.

The pressure is on to find a new post for Richard C. Patterson, Jr., who was at one time American Ambassador to Yugoslavia and later ambassador to Guatemala. In both instances Patterson's diplomatic mission ended in undiplomatic fashion.

The governments of both Yugoslavia and Guatemala are said to have sought his withdrawal. While he was still ambassador to Yugoslavia he returned to this country and gave a series of paid lectures in cities across the country in which he undertook to speak "off the record" about the Tito dictatorship. This was in 1947 before Marshall Tito had broken with Moscow.

Long Dispute
In the controversy growing out of these lectures a long dispute in the State Department over approval of Patterson's lecture tour. It was, of course, a highly unusual procedure for an ambassador to give paid lectures of a critical nature about the country to which he was accredited. One who took a strong stand against this practice, according to reports at the time, was the then undersecretary, Dean Acheson.

Tentatively, at least, it has been indicated to Patterson's political sponsors that he will be given the post of Minister to Switzerland. He would replace an able career diplomat, John Carter Vincent.

Has Influential Friends
Patterson has influential friends both in the White House and on Capitol Hill. An assistant secretary of commerce in the Roosevelt administration, he is reported to be close to the New York business group that has as its chief front man, George Allen, so-called court jester who recently published a book called, "Presidents Who Have Known Me."

Patterson's version of why his ambassadorial career ended in controversy in both Yugoslavia and Guatemala differs radically, of course, from the complaints made by the governments of those two countries. The former ambassador says that the trouble grew out of his forthrightness in fighting Communism in both capitals. He has impressed congressional committees with his emphasis on blunt, desk-pounding methods, contrasted to the detriment of the diplomacy of "the striped-pants boys."

Some Special Instances
There are instances where the appointment of a civilian outside the professional service is not only justified but desirable. This may be for reason of prestige or because the individual has special background and qualifications.

But deserving contributors to political campaigns and politicians in search of a temporary berth do not often have these qualifications. In one of the crudest deals in the campaign last fall New York Mayor O'Dwyer was conveniently removed from the political scene and made ambassador to Mexico. A capable career diplomat, Walter Thurston, resigned from the foreign service as a result of being shoved out of the post.

Pushing Practice Far
The Truman administration is pushing this practice pretty far. An estimated one-fourth of top diplomatic posts now held by political appointees. The most conspicuous example is Mrs. Perle Mesta, Minister to Luxembourg. She is said to have worked hard, thus far in vain, to get a more important post carrying with it the title of ambassador. Several key embassies—the Argentine is one—are now vacant and some fancy angling is going on by those who believe they are in line for preference. Amateurs in the field of diplomacy have now and then proved themselves highly capable. Stanton Griffis, who has had a successful business career in various fields, is an example. Griffis has just been transferred from the Argentine to Spain.

But it is probable that this is the exception rather than the rule. In the good old days when our ambassadors were largely decorative, if they were that, it didn't matter too much. But in the kind of world in which we are living it does matter very much indeed.

(Copyright, 1951, United Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Still their little taxes will help . . . the treasury figures $50,000 here, $50,000 there and first thing you know they've got enough to be billions short of what they intended to ask for next time.

And, if we haven't got it, they'll wait . . . 'till ten days.

Of course, Bing has four boys working now, but it will take them a few years to really get in the higher brackets . . . the 13 year old has made only $200,000 so far and he's working for a year.

But you know how today's kids are . . . not interested in money. They'll take any job that seems to have a future.

The Three - Letter Word

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—Since the world is round and war is hell, we needn't be surprised that the same hesitation has now arisen in Europe that previously arose in Asia. The peace-loving countries over there are simply not willing to fight—not willing to fight a real war.

We recall that, when the North Korean Reds attacked last June, the bulk of the United Nations rallied at least by their votes and to the extent of pledging token forces to Mr. Truman's "police action" against this pigmy aggressor. But the zeal for united action began to cool when it appeared that the North Koreans crossed the Yalu River in began to evaporate when the Red Chinese were more or less deserted by India, November. American leadership was more or less deserted by India, November. American leadership was more or less deserted by India, November. American leadership was more or less deserted by India, November.

Similar Situation In Europe
Now a similar situation begins to shape up in Europe. Britain and France were eager to have our help under the Atlantic Pact. After a certain amount of pressure, they agreed to make strenuous efforts in their own behalf. They agreed, more or less, to the rearming of Western Germany. They agreed, that is, to a policy of united action which went by the name of "defense," just as in Asia it went by the name of "police action."

But now Russia, much as Red China did in Asia, has interjected the possible use of that terrifying three-letter word war. In notes to Britain and France, the Kremlin has hinted very strongly that any rearming of Western Germany will be considered a violation of the non-aggression pact which was hailed with such cheers a few years ago. Violation of the pact, says Russia, means war. Hence the hesitation.

Fault Of Our Own Leadership
Well, in a way it's the fault of our own leadership. It's the fault of indulging a certain human weakness wherein men imagine that they can avoid an evil thing by coyly refusing to name it by name. It's time-worn cussedness, but it has never succeeded in altering the facts. Victorians could not bring themselves to discuss sex, but they did not abolish it. People still die, no matter how we try to put the matter less harshly by saying that they have passed away or gone to their Maker. So it is when we try, in Asia, and in Europe, to disguise the fact of war or impending war under some less dreadful name. It does not change the fact. It only weakens our leadership.

To be specific, I recall the day a large batch of us went over to the Pentagon to attend Gen. Eisenhower's last press conference there. He said that his purpose in going to Europe was "peace—and it is nothing else." But Eisenhower had just come from long conferences with President Truman and Secretary Acheson. No doubt he was speaking for the official emissary of an Administration which has consistently dodged the use of the one word—war—which is the most thought-about word in the world today. It is exactly the word which should not be dodged, but which should be fearlessly and frankly used in all of our doings at home and abroad.

Opportunity To Make Beginning
An opportunity to make this beginning will soon turn up. Gen. Eisenhower will presently be reporting to Congress and to the nation on his Mission to Europe. He is the biggest man in America today. He has achieved this status by traits of character which do both him and the country enormous credit. He is fearless. He is frank. He has showed himself to be above personal ambition. These are qualities which not only become the man who has them. The same qualities also speak well for the country which admires them. The surest way to judge a people is by the sort of heroes they raise up. And like is a genuine hero of the American people.

The Administration should take the wraps off Eisenhower. He is too good a soldier to speak for himself while in uniform. His sense of loyalty would not permit him to reflect any disagreement with his Commander-in-Chief or to criticize any policy of the Administration. Perhaps there is no disagreement and no criticism in Ike's mind. But we cannot be sure of that so long as he is addressing Congress or the people in an official role.

Therefore, Eisenhower should be allowed to step temporarily out of uniform. He should be allowed to speak as Ike. That is the only way the country can get the full benefit of his frank and fearless character. It is probably the only way that the world can hear from an American leader who is apt to call a spade a spade and a war a war.

"You seem to understand life so well," writes a California writer. "What do you read to be able to understand life and people? What do you recommend for me to read so that I, too, may be able to cope with life better than I do?"

I receive letters in similar vein at least once a week. My answer to the question what I recommend for reading is: "People."

There are millions of books. There are thousands of GOOD books.

There are books written by thinkers, would-be thinkers, scientists, pseudo-scientists, and books written by smarties who find out first what will sell best and then write a book to fill the demand.

I don't undervalue books one bit. I would be lost without them. But no one can learn how to LIVE or how to make life successful by reading books.

No house is any good without a solid foundation. But you cannot live in a foundation.

To make a house livable, enjoyable, comfortable, homelike, you need lots of other things besides a foundation.

You need chairs and lounges, tables and pictures, paint and wallpaper, lamps and flowers, rugs and table covers.

You need hundreds of other things to make a house a home, and the best way to find out what you need to make you happy is by living in the house and gradually acquiring the things you need, like, want, and can afford.

Reading is the FOUNDATION for understanding. But you may be full of book-knowledge and yet not have the slightest idea how to live a full life.

Life is not lived by written rule nor by printed formula.

Read books, magazines, newspapers, by all means. But read them as the foundation, not as the house in which to live.

Now, pardon me. I must read the comic page of my newspaper before my wife grabs it.

(Copyright, 1951, United Features Syndicate, Inc.)

But that doesn't GIVE you a practice. That doesn't bring clients to you. And even if they do come, that doesn't make you win cases.

You must read, yes. But you must read PEOPLE.

You must read your clients. You must read the judge. You must read the jury. You must read the witnesses.

And what you read there is NOT written in books.

How you read people and understand what you read in them, determines your success in life, your enjoyment of life, the value of your life.

Read books, magazines, newspapers, by all means. But read them as the foundation, not as the house in which to live.

Now, pardon me. I must read the comic page of my newspaper before my wife grabs it.

Rosenberger Speaks To Volant Lions

With 22 members of their club present at the weekly meeting, the Volant Lions heard a most interesting talk on one of today's greatest problems, the threat of Communism.

Ross Rosenberger, of New Castle, was the speaker and chose as his topic, "The Origin and Character of Russian Communism." The subject being among those upper most in the minds of many persons, he told something of the background of the Communist movement and its subsequent rise to power. He told of its method of gaining power, the bloody revolution, the threat to personal freedom, and the hardships endured by peoples under the doctrines of the Reds.

R. W. Lamoree, of New Castle, was a special guest at Tuesday's meeting.

No program was announced for the next meeting which will occur February 13.

No Tax Boost
For Year 1951General Budget
Now On Display

If you are interested where your county tax money is going in 1951, the budgets are now on display in the office of the county commissioners.

County Controller Andrew M. Dodd has completed the general budget and submitted it to the commissioners and for the next twenty days it will be on display. Following that the commissioners may revise it as they see fit but there will be no increase in tax levy of 5½ mills for general purpose. The levy for institution purposes is one mill, a total of 6½, which it has been for a year.

The total budget for general purposes is $687,422.53. The receipts are estimated to come in as follows. From the current levies (on realty, occupations and personal property) $308,162.50. Prior years' taxes, $15,500. Licenses and permits, $100. Fines and forfeits $200. Departmental earnings, $5,850. These are from revenue sources. From non-revenue sources $50 from sales of property and equipment, and $1550 from other non-revenue sources. To this add a balance of $223,360.03 on hand at the beginning of the year bringing the total to $687,422.53.

Estimated expenditures include the following: General administration, $243,039; Judiciary $124,727; Corrections $113,421; Charities $24,700 and miscellaneous $76,661. Capital outlay expenditures come to $95,700.

Among proposed capital outlay expenditures will be $26,750 for indexing the books of the Register and Recorder. Tax duplicates, sheets and binders for the county treasurer, $2000. Cabinet for maps for the commissioners, $300. Printing $500. New Boiler $7000. Equipment for the detention home $17,000. Improve court room 1, $10,000. Down spouts and repairs to roof of court house necessitated by damage due to the heavy snows, $5000. New steps for the court house, $2200. Landscaping, garage and fence for detention home, $8000. Binding in the Prothonotary's office, $4000. Indexing, $1000. Car for sheriff, $1000. Book binding in the Register and Recorder's office, $2500. Map cabinet $150.

Among the many contributions allocated will be $10,000 for civil defense work. Child welfare $10,000. This is a new expenditure for the county. Group insurance, $1000. Council of Defense, disaster relief, $500. Employees' retirement fund, $16,000. Township supervisors' association, $100. Military affairs, $16,591. The latter expenditure represents the salaries for the office of Veteran Adviser A. Lewis Conn, headstones and markers for veterans' graves, soldiers and widows' burials.

The Sinking Fund will be a thing of the past this year. On July 1, the commissioners will pay $32,000 principal payment and $1440 interest on bonds and this will clean up the bonded indebtedness of the county. Snow removal $44,000. Land damages $35,000. All of these expenditures will come from the liquid fuel tax fund. The assessed valuation of real estate in the county for this year is $67,500,000. Occupational assessments $8,000,000. Personal property assessments $11,000,000. On personal property there is a four mill levy set by state law. The budgets are now upon public display. If in the next twenty days there are as many citizens view the budgets as there have been in past years the total will reach a round one or two.

FINES AND COSTS UP

In the year 1950 the fines and costs collected by the county were high, according to a report by District Attorney, Sherman K.

Levine. The money coming to county from fines and costs amounted to $32,793.82. Due the state and township fines and costs amounted to $1763.65. In addition the district attorney's office confiscated 3 adding machines from numbers writers, $1750 worth of prizes for punch boards and 9 slot machines. Four others taken are awaiting disposition.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERR

Farmer Mortimer came down from the Vermont hills to watch the first train run through town via the new cut-off on the main line. It also was the first train he had ever seen in his life. He stood at the station, grimly holding the hand of his equally excited ten-year-old son. There was a whistle in the distance, and finally the engine hove into view down the track. Larger and larger it grew as it approached the station, and finally loomed as an iron monster rushing to envelop everybody on the platform. The farmer stood it until the last second, then bolted for the woods, crying to his son, "We gotta get out of her, boy! This thing's gonna spread all over town!"

George Heister asks if you remember these three gags from your childhood repertoire: 1. Teacher: Where is the elephant found? Bright Pupil: The elephant is such a large animal he rarely gets lost. 2. St. Peter: How did you get here? New Arrival: Flu. 3. Husband (drying dishes): "Did you say the dinner set your Ma gave us has 32 pieces?" "Yes, pet." "Well, love, it now has 62."

Rose Avenue P.T.A. Hears Discussion By Harold Wieand

Members of the Rose Avenue Parent-Teachers' Association heard a timely discussion by Harold Wieand, professor of history at Slippery Rock State Teacher's college, when they met this week in the school's auditorium.

Mrs. Al Jones opened the meeting with Miss Verice Armstrong reading the P.T.A. prayer. Secretary, Mrs. William McKee, read the minutes and a letter of resignation from Mrs. Thomas Booher, president.

Mrs. Al Jones was elected president and Mrs. Irwin as first vice-president. The treasurer's report was presented by Mrs. Clark.

Founder's Day

Program chairman, Mrs. Samuel Rashid, disclosed plans for the February meeting, with Founder's Day and the 54th year of P.T.A. to be celebrated. All past presidents of Rose Avenue P.T.A. will be special guests of the evening.

Miss Ellen Gallagher gave the City Council's report, and Miss Smith and Miss Schugers classes winning the pennants for the largest percentage of parents present. Two 100 per cent classes were those of Miss Blucher and Mrs. White.

The year's procedure book will be compiled by Mrs. Frank McClain, assisted by Mrs. Horace Tressler. Mrs. Lewis, organization committee chairman of the Girl Scouts, gave an interesting talk, stating that mothers are needed to assist with scout work at Rose avenue. Special guests at the meeting were Miss Rice, Miss Wilson, and several guests from Ellwood City P.T.A.

Mrs. Rashid introduced Bobby Kwiat and Joe Kocinski. Bobby sang two numbers and Joe played two selections on the accordion.

World Conditions

Harold Wieand, guest speaker, enlightened the group with an interesting talk on "World Conditions Today." "Will our children be able to accept the drastic changes without frustration?" stated Mr. Wieand. "How are we to equip them for the future? All Americans should learn the background and real meaning of democracy, and learn to discipline themselves and teach children more self-discipline. In that way there will be less need for military restrictions."

He closed his discussion with the thought of a possible but not probable war with Russia in the near future, and answered several questions asked by the group.

A delightful social time followed the meeting, with fathers in charge. The table was gaily decorated with the valentine motif, with the fathers serving the refreshments. Those in charge included Mr. Caven, Mr. Morganti, Mr. McCann, and Mr. Davis.

Says Left-Handers Are More Dexterous

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 26—(INS)—The left-handers may not know what the right-handers are doing—but if it involves dexterity, the left-handers probably are doing it better.

That's the conclusion of three university of Wisconsin psychologists, Roger Davis, Robert Wehrkamp and Prof. Karl U. Smith, who say their tests show that south-pawed can use their left hands faster than a right-hander and also are more adept at two-handed tasks.

Smith said: "In learning to get along in a right-handed world, left-handers seem to develop more dexterity with both hands than the average right-handed persons."

PLENTY OF TURKEYS

HARRISBURG, Jan. 26—(INS)—Pennsylvania turkey growers today anticipate plenty of white meat for the traditional Thanksgiving dinner in November.

Keystone State turkeymen reported to the State Agriculture Department plans to produce an estimated 1,562,000 birds this year, 6 per cent more than last.

Assails Doctrine Of Moving Plants To Open Country

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 26—(INS)—Government pressure for construction of new defense plants in the "wide open spaces" because of possible atomic bombing of the northeast was labeled a "false doctrine" today by New York State Commissioner of Commerce Harold Keller.

He told delegates from development agencies of 13 states, meeting in Albany, that while the northeast has a large proportion of the national target areas it also has a large percentage of available space and facilities for big defense plants.

Keller said:

"There are those in positions of power in Washington who have for years been preaching the false doctrine of dispersal of industry away from the industrial states. Although it has been proved conclusively that, even if it were desirable, the cost of removal would be completely prohibitive."

"No place in the country can be classified as safe in the event of real atomic warfare, but certainly there is room for real expansion in the northeast without contributing to the defense problems of our target areas."

SAVED BY SNOWSUIT

of Michael A. Rivetts, three, who was rescued by a passerby after he fell into icy Assabet river and was carried 300 yards downstream.

The tight ankle and wrist cuffs on Michael's snowsuit made it buoyant and kept him from sinking. He was pulled to safety by Kenneth Clark, 28, who took the youngster home.

YWCA Program Staff Members Conduct Study

Program staff members of the YWCA met Thursday morning with the executive director for the regular monthly meeting.

Following a short but interesting discussion on "Replacing Our Fears With Hope", Miss Dorothy Stewart led a study on "Leadership Skills in Administration" as taken from Harleigh Trecker's last book, "Group Process in Administration". Material in this book is based on learnings and findings from a project carried on by the YWCA executive directors all over the country in the years 1945-48.

Many books have been written on administration in business, in industry, in hospitals, in case work agencies but administration in a social group work agency has been neglected. Agencies like the YMCA, YWCA, Settlement Houses in the cities are known as social group work agencies.

This book of Trecker's is being hailed throughout the country as a great addition to the group work field. In February the local program staff will discuss the keeping of records touching on topics such as "Upon what area of work should executives keep records? What are the purposes of records? What should the content be?"

Following the study period, Miss Shirley Webber used the staff in an interesting experiment testing out a program technique which she and Mrs. Esther Eakin will both use on Monday in Pittsburgh at a round table meeting of directors from western Pennsylvania and southeastern Ohio.

It is a program technique whereby music is used in helping leaders to further their understanding of young adults.

Miss Webber put on the record "Warsaw Concerto" by Addisennella. Members in the group then later expressed the thoughts which the music brought into their minds. The results, as found in the YW staff meeting this morning were fascinating and should prove most interesting in work with young adults.

Defeated Candidate

Admits He Took $7,500

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The 4,000-member Brooklyn postal employees Credit Union held a formal installation of officers last night.

Edward Kellner, 40, for six years secretary-treasurer of the organization and who had been defeated for re-election, was called on to turn over the books to his successor.

Kellner stood up at this point and announced: "I might as well face the music. I clipped the funds for $7,500." Fifteen members escorted Kellner, father of two children, to a police station where he said he took the money to bet on the horses. He was charged with grand larceny.

TO CONFER DEGREES

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Degrees will be conferred on 624 students at Penn State's annual mid-winter commencement exercises Saturday morning.

FILM LONDON.—(INS)—The British Board of Film Censors has ruled that children under 16 will be barred from movie-theaters even if they are accompanied by adults, when the film being shown is marked with an "X". This new movie-grading—"Certificate X"—will appear on British screens in the new year.

FIND ABANDONED AUTO

Auto bearing Pennsylvania license 894MG was found abandoned by police in Castle street. Nearby residents reported the car has been there since January 19. The keys were in the ignition switch.

Women Holding Top-Level Jobs Give Advice To Gals

By MARGARET WEIL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—More than 800 women now holding down top-level "men's jobs" advised career-bent gals that it takes labor—not luck—to crash the traditional man's world.

The distaff models of success told labor department interviewers that neither "luck nor looks", but sheer hard work got them where they are.

They were questioned in a survey covering 29 department stores, 30 insurance companies, 12 banks and 166 manufacturing plants in Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago. The results just released show a singular unanimity of opinion.

Nearly all women named the "tyranny of men" as the most serious obstacle to advancement in the business world. However, they felt that tradition and prejudice are giving way increasingly to competence and initiative.

But they warned that women, more than men, must bear in mind that their job performance at any level, however routine, affects management's attitudes toward women who aspire to high-level jobs.

Formidable Handicaps

They named lack of interest, lack of ambition, instability, lack of technical knowledge and even personality traits as "formidable handicaps" in overcoming discriminatory attitudes of management.

One woman, a personnel assistant in a bank, gave this formula for success:

"Become well prepared for a job. Watch for advancement possibilities and be quietly aggressive in going after advancement. Be regular in attendance and accept the 'gripes' from supervisors and co-workers without emotion."

An insurance company statistician advised:

"Don't mark time—too many women work only for the 15th and 30th and pay as little attention as possible to their jobs. Learn to

"WELL, I NEVER!"

Never Dreamed Tiny TUMS Work So Fast

"Just imagine me eating all my favorite foods with never a sign of acid indigestion, heartburn or gas," says Aunt May. "If Cousin Harry hadn't given me some Tums that time I visited him and had that bad case of sour stomach, I wouldn't believe anything could work so fast."

Tums do work in record time. No mixing, no waiting—no soda to cause acid rebound. Remember, keep Tums handy—eat like candy. See if you don't have lots more fun eating favorite foods and enjoying life.

memorize useful information and have it ready when needed."

All the women placed emphasis on training and education. They said too many women failed to take advantage of the opportunities for special training offered them.

Personality traits were emphasized by a buyer in a department store—the field where women, according to the survey, have the greatest advancement opportunities. The buyer advised:

"Be more gracious and cooperative. Learn to live and let live. Forget your importance—too many women believe they are all important and can't be replaced."

Butch has a case on Mollie. She has lovely curly hair and fixes it just right.

Butch puts lots of stuff on his hair but it won't stay where he wants it.

Mollie has some hair on places where she does not want it to be. She uses hair remover and emery paper and all sorts of schemes to remove the hair. The best way is to shave it off with a razor.

People tell her that shaving will make the hair thicker and heavier. Dad tried it on his bald spot but it didn't work.

Mollie and Butch will hear a lot of things that aren't so. Maybe that is part of their education to figure out the false and the true.

The club will be hostess at the February meeting of the Garden Council of Lawrence County and this was discussed at the meeting.

The group selected the month of October for the Flower Grower cover contest. Conduct Annual S.S. Conference

Highland Church Scene Of Sessions

Under the leadership of County president, L. Butler Hennon, the 1951 mid-year planning conference of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association conducted Thursday afternoon and evening in the Highland U. P. church, proved one of the most successful in recent years.

Every department leader and visiting speaker on the program brought highly helpful information to the Sunday school workers from every section of Lawrence county which they took back to their respective schools to put in action. The attractive conference program drew approximately 150 to the North Hill church to participate in the discussions which centered around bettering the Sunday school program.

Program Opened
Edward Book, music director of the Highland church directed in the singing of hymns to get the session under way at five o'clock after which Rev. Robert H. Mayo, pastor of First U. P. church conducted a brief period of devotion, using as his theme, "Stop Watch on America." Dr. Will Gordon, interim pastor of the First Baptist church, spoke on the subject of Evangelism during the departmental leader discussions; J. C. Dennison of Ellwood City was heard on church literature with Miss Anna Dadds, temperance superintendent, discussing temperance literature. Woodson W. Collins gave an informal talk on the matter of publicity. An excellent dinner served by the church Naomi Circle proved pleasing to the conference delegates. Rev. E. Chester Crabbe of Bessemer, offered the invocation. Prior to the dinner, Professor Robert Powell of the State council spoke, giving a very highly informative address on the part individuals play in the molding of lives and the influence they exert on others. Professor Powell is just taking up his duties as a representative of the state council.

Evening Program

Dr. Gordon again was heard in the evening, conducting a period of devotion, which was preceded by the singing of hymns, led by Mr. Book. A most successful conference period was enjoyed in which several leaders participated. Mrs. B. F. Johnson, children's department superintendent, introduced Miss Anna Dadds, who spoke in reference to the temperance program. Rev. Rowland White, new young peoples leader, spoke briefly on the aims and plans for that work in the future. The adult chairman, James Eakin, introduced Rev. Andrew Marsteller of the Struthers Baptist Tabernacle, who gave a thoroughly interesting and thought provoking talk on adult work and its relation to the Sunday school.

The closing inspirational address of the evening was given by Rev. W. Carl Bogard of the First Presbyterian church of Butler. His theme was well developed with much help given the Sunday school workers in their ever present problem of creating new ideas and means of attracting others to the Sunday schools.

In still air a cloud will sink to lower levels at the rate of eight feet a minute.

Brewery Workers Continue Strike

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—CIO Brewery Workers refused a reported 15-cent hourly pay increase and continued an unauthorized walkout today in an effort to achieve a 25-cent hourly boost at three major breweries in Pittsburgh.

The Western Pennsylvania Brewers Association, representing 13 breweries, had been voluntarily negotiating a wage raise on the contract which expires next April 1.

The international office of the Brewery Workers union sent out notices calling yesterday's work stoppage unauthorized and a contract violation.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The romance of two music lovers which began at the Metropolitan opera house two years ago ended in a Brooklyn factory last night with the knife-slitting of an auburn-haired airlines clerk by her suitor.

Police identified the dead girl as Virginia Wilson, 24, and said that Rolando Sciolli, a radio mechanic, confessed the killing after luring her to the Ampere Electronics Corp. on the pretext of taking her to the opera.

Singer Ginny Simms Files Divorce Suit

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Singer Ginny Simms charges extreme cruelty in a new divorce suit on file in Santa Monica Superior court today against architect Hyatt Robert Dehn.

The songstress won an interlocutory divorce last March 15, but the couple later reconciled. She announced last week that the reconciliation had failed.

Her complaint asks that Dehn be restrained from selling any community property and states she believes he has concealed community property in the names of other persons, who are listed as "John Does". They were married July 28, 1945, and have two children, David, 4, and Conrad, 1, whose custody Miss Simms seeks.

The New York Stock Exchange, the largest and most important of all exchanges, was founded in 1817.

Shenango Township Makes Informations To Collect Wage Tax

In pursuance of a decision made at their last meeting, the School

Directors of Shenango Township have made information against three residents of the Township for failure to file Wage Tax Returns and pay the Wage Tax due. Informations were made before Alderman L. C. Mantz and final hearings will be held next Thursday, February 1, 1951, at 2 p.m. Under the Wage Tax Law as adopted by the School District, each of the defendants could be fined as much as $100, and also be obliged to pay the tax due with penalties if they were found guilty of violating the law. It is stated by the Board that so many residents of the District have been ignoring the law, that stiffer enforcement became necessary. The Board states that similar informations will follow against every resident of the Township who fails to comply with the provisions of the law.

Gives His Recollections Of Beaver And Erie Canal

By WILLIAM H. AUBEL

In the legislative session of 1822-1823 the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania passed a bill authorizing the survey of a canal route to link the Great Lakes with the Ohio River. This survey was made and the route was selected as the most feasible. State elections and other difficulties interfered with immediate construction activity and the execution of the project lagged. The movement was later revived by citizens of the communities concerned who foresaw the advantages of such a waterway. At a meeting of those interested, held in Mercer, an organization was effected to push the project. Legislative action followed and by 1844 the enterprise had been carried so far as to see the launching of two boats, one "Queen of the West," the other a freighter bearing the name "R. S. Reed." The latter carried a cargo of Mercer county coal for delivery in Erie. This shipment was the first coal seen in that city and its disposal is a story in itself. The following account written by Henderson D. Bell and published some years ago in the "Sharon Herald" may be pertinent in this connection:

A story was told of William Fruit, Clarksville, who shortly after the canal was finished in the early '40's took a boat load (of coal) to Erie. His new fuel was not known and he had to consume tons of it to demonstrate that it would burn and was superior to wood for cooking and heating purposes. He could not decide a sale of his cargo, so decided to dump it into the lake. At that moment Rufus Reed, a large shareholder in the canal, took an interest in the cargo and bought it for $2 a ton, giving his 60-day note, which Mr. Fruit discounted. He returned home a sadder, but wiser, man.

In these reminiscences I am giving from personal observation and actual experience my memories of the operation of the canal. My boyhood home was only a few rods distant from the canal.

Crucial Question

Next to the actual digging and construction the crucial question was whether there was sufficient water available for navigation. It was found that by using Conneaut Lake as a feeder north to Erie and south to Beaver that problem could be solved. It was necessary to utilize as well the streams from the watershed along the route. An occasional stretch of slackwater in the Shenango was also of service. This so-called slackwater was created by building a dam and routing the canal into this. One of these, almost a mile in extent, was located at Big Bend and there was one at one at Sharpville. The route was in the main fairly level with just sufficient grade for the southward flow. The course of the canal ran north and south.

The working out of countless details great and small in the construction of the project demanded an engineering competence almost equal to that exacted by the great Panama Canal. On a journey that I had the privilege of making some years ago through that great waterway, I saw nothing that surpassed, save in magnitude, the accomplishment of the canal. However everything there had to be made to accommodate ocean-going vessels.

At one place, I recall, water from adjacent land approached the canal at too low a point to empty into the channel and the flow had to be taken care of by a sluiceway under the canal. Every provision was made for the regulation of the supply of water at all seasons. This was done by constructed spillways along the route. Care was taken to insure owners of farm land through which the canal ran, against inconvenience in reaching their divided fields. Barges were built where necessary to facilitate passing back and forth. On one of these bridges I remember how my brother and I would stand with baskets of vegetables to sell to the boatmen. They would empty the produce on the deck and hand us up the baskets at the other side as the boat passed under.

Gradient Too Steep

At certain points the gradient became too steep for quietly flowing water. This situation was met by the construction of locks. These structures were of cut stone which demanded a high degree of craftsmanship since each single block was dressed on three sides and both ends—the upper and lower "beds," the two butt edges and the face or exposure. Many of these stones were each so large that a single one would cover an entire wagon rack and be all a stout team could pull. I realized this when after the canal was abandoned I saw the stones removed and taken to the nearest railroad point for shipment to Erie where they were used in building the massive Roman Catholic Cathedral. They are still there to see.

These locks, as I have said, were built wherever the gradient required. Some were several miles apart, but there were three near my boyhood home about one mile from each other. At the northern terminus of the canal they were so close that boats were let out of one into the other. This was the case at Lockport, so named from the many locks.

My recollection of a canal boat brings back the memory of a craft about 10 feet wide and perhaps 60 feet long and 7 or 8 feet from floor to deck. There were three cabins, one aft, one in the bow, and one amidship. The two end cabins provided living quarters and the other sheltered the horses. The cargo was stowed in the space between. Two sets of horses, two to a team, alternated in pulling the boat. When working they were hitched tandem to the tow line or rope. In changing teams a gang-plank was laid from the tow path to the boat. The steering apparatus consisted of a long heavy lever or sweep coming up over the rear and connected with an upright paddle or rudder which directed the "in" or "out" motion of the boat. When boats met the downbound boat would edge over to the "berm" or opposite side of the towpath and drop its towline below the surface of the water. The other boat would cross it and continue on its way.

Boatmen Whistled

We are accustomed to hear trains whistle for station stops. On the canal the boatman would blow a blast on a horn when approaching a lock as a signal to let the lock tender know how to set the lock for an approaching up or downbound boat. The lock had to be full for the latter and empty for the former. The up-bound boat entering the empty lock would have to wait for it to fill and then proceed. There was a house at each lock for the tender and his family. He had to attend to all the boats. The owner of the boat was the operator.

The Panama Canal engineer did not have to use a device that was in operation on the Beaver and Erie waterway. This was an "aqueduct" of which our canal had several. The one with which I was familiar was at New Hamburg where the canal had to be carried over Lowango Run, another was at Elk Creek, Erie County. Of places of importance other than populous transportation centers, Big Bend merits special mention. First called Shenango, it was a receiving and shipping point for all southern Mercer County and so vital to local trade that the road from "Big Bend" to Mercer was laid with three-inch plank, thus making it an all-weather road. The distance was about 6 miles and the name, "The Plank Road" long survived the discontinuance of the canal.

To sum up, it was 17 years from the start to the completion of construction. The canal was in operation for 27 years—from 1844 to 1871. With it passed an era in transportation and leisurely travel yielding to the age of steam and rail, with not improbably in the foreseeable future the prospect of air-borne cargoes hurtling through the skies with such speed and efficiency as the traders and boatmen of the long-dead canal days never dreamed.

New Castle Angles

The article, so far, had its setting in Mercer County and most all reminds us here from that point of view, but having lived here for half a century, I have acquired some history facts pertaining to the canal as it passed through Lawrence County.

Going back to the subject of locks, there doesn't seem to have been necessary to have any locks between Sharpville and New Castle, the grade being as required. But there was a slack-water beginning at Grant Street down to a dam, constructed below the Washington Street bridge, this being to divert the water flow into the cut-off from the Shenango River to the Neshannock Creek which formed an approach to the city locks, where the canal crossed the river. The new New Castle Dry Goods building now stands.

While excavating for the piers of the new highway bridge over the Neshannock Creek there were found timbers, which no doubt were part of a spillway to the original channel of the creek. The canal continued on down through the Shenango Valley past a junction of a Mahoning Valley canal that continued in to Youngstown, and of course, the canal terminated at Beaver where it connected with the Ohio River waterway.

This Beaver and Erie canal served its purpose in the period in which it existed, then in due time, progressive factors brought about the railroad which absorbed the out-moded transportation for a speedier method.

This was done so thoroughly that the railroads were built on the towpath of the canal at two places

Passenger Plane Sets New Record

NEW YORK, Jan. 26—(INS)—A 50-passenger Canadian jet on Thursday set a new record on National Airlines' Miami-to-New York route by zooming over Idlewood Airport two hours and 23 minutes after its Miami take-off.

The flight is usually clocked at four hours.

The plane had been warm-weather tested and inspected in Florida by National Airlines' officials, who have announced they are interested in the possibilities of jet transportation over their east coast route.

Warime Home Garden Project Heads Into Trouble

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—(INS)

A current movement to launch another wartime home garden campaign is heading into trouble. A National Advisory Garden committee has urged Agriculture Secretary Brannan to start a garden campaign similar to the "victory gardens" of World War II.

The committee wants the campaign to be called "The Liberty Garden Program."

A survey of farm experts in the Agriculture Department shows that they believe there is no need for such a program. Some are bitterly opposed to it.

They say that farm production this year is going to be of record proportions and that food supplies are completely adequate to serve emergency needs. They believe that such a campaign at this time would only result in waste of critically-needed farm materials.

Secretary Brannan has kept silent on the subject. His recent statements, however, would indicate that he does not see the need for such a program. He repeatedly has said that the nation's food situation is the best it has ever been. The Garden Advisory committee includes representatives of seed firms, garden tool distributors, garden magazines, canners organizations and the Boy Scouts.

What Is Best Time Of Year To Be Born? February And March, Research Proves

By HENRY C. NICHOLAS
(Central Press Correspondent)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 26.—It is no accident, says Dr. Ellsworth Huntington of Yale university, that the birthdays of our two greatest historical figures, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, both fall in the month of February.

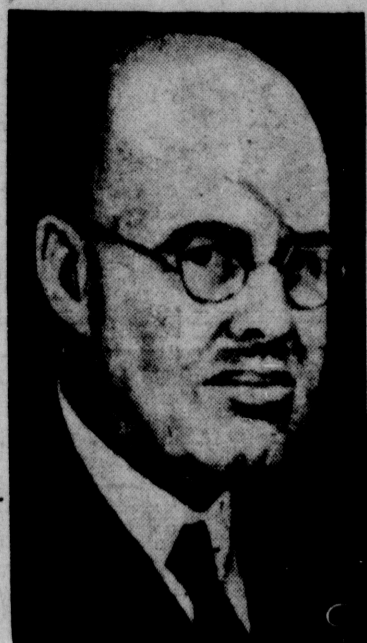

Babies born in February and March live more than the average span of life and a larger proportion of them are geniuses and achieve distinction in life than is true of babies born in other months. The next best month in which to be born is January.

These are the findings in a study of millions of births in the Northern Hemisphere made by Dr. Huntington. The season at which people are born has far greater importance than is generally supposed. This was true of our primitive ancestors and in spite of the great changes in living conditions it is still true today.

A study of 1,300 scientists in "American Men of Science," started because they were recognized by their colleagues as being the most eminent, revealed a strong tendency to be born in January, February and March.

A similar seasonal distribution of birth was found in tabulating 12,000 people in "Who's Who in America." In a list of 2,650 of the world's most eminent persons, 382 were born in February in contrast with 149 in June.

There was a rhythm in conception and birth periods among our prehistoric ancestors. It was not fixed like animals, said Dr. Huntington, but was probably set by weather conditions under which primitive man lived. This rhythm has not entirely worn off with the growth of civilization.

It has long been known that European races and the people of North America have two definite climatic optima, or sets of most favorable conditions.

One optimum is physical, and its chief feature is an average temperature for the day and night together of about 60 Fahrenheit. The other is mental and is estimated at about 39 degrees average for the day and night.

Why are these two optima of temperature? It is now thought the answer to this puzzling question can be found in an inheritance from our most primitive ancestors.

The conditions governing season of birth among prehistoric man apparently explains the physical as well as the mental optimum of temperature.

Births in February come from conceptions in the previous May. This is the natural breeding season when all Nature renews itself and human bodies are at their physical peak.

Primitive babies born in February and March in Northern Hemisphere climate would have a better chance to live and be healthy. From that time onward the food becomes better in quantity and quality, and both the mother and child are well fed.

The February and March child of our early ancestors had advantages like those which make it best for lambs to be born in April, and robins to be hatched in May.

While the bodies of our primitive ancestors would function best at the temperature which prevailed at the mating season, their minds would function best at the normal season of birth. At that time, more than any other, the survival of the new generation depended on the mental alertness of the parents.

This explains, in the opinion of Dr. Huntington, why the mental optimum of the human race became established at a temperature lower than the physical optimum.

Thus, it was the temperature in this hemisphere which caused the human race to produce more and better babies in the months of February and March.

While the custom started in the primitive conditions in which prehistoric man lived, scientists say it still is true of civilized people today.

Scientists add this tip to the girls. If a fellow proposes in the spring he may be overwhelmed by your physical attractions and his mind may be a little dazed. If he proposes in the winter, then his mental facilities should be clearer although he may seem equally befuddled.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

What If He Were a Grownup?

The Tolmans' guest dropped a choice dish and smashed it into bits. As would be expected, both Mr. and Mrs. Tolman did everything to make him feel comfortable. The next day, Jimmy Tolman dropped one of those run-of-the-mill tumbler. He was taken to task for his carelessness in no uncertain terms. After a few minutes, Jimmie said, "But mother, you didn't act upset when Mr. Boynton broke that dish yesterday. Why are you angry with me?"

Mrs. Tolman justifies herself, but that night she talked the whole thing over with her husband. And they agreed that it must seem strange to a youngster to see such different reactions.

It would be an interesting family experiment to try treating our children in the same courteous way we treat our grown-up friends and acquaintances. It is quite possible that were we to do so, we'd have far less trouble with discipline or with other problems that arise in the course of everyday living.

Federal Rent Control Studied

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—(INS)—A reliable source said today that Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson is studying a plan to impose tough federal rent controls similar to those existing during World War II.

If Wilson and President Truman okay the proposal, congressional enactment will be sought before the present stop-gap law dies March 31.

Flu Epidemic Causes 4000 Deaths In Area

By THOMAS C. WATSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Health officials of Merseyside in northwest England estimated today that more than 4,000 persons have died in their district in the influenza epidemic since the start of the year.

The death toll in the Liverpool area alone was put at 2,075.

Some medical men meanwhile attributed the wave of sickness afflicting Britons to reduced physical resistance resulting from a badly balanced British austerity diet, coupled with nervous tension and a cold winter.

Doctors assert this the worst winter for illness that Britain has ever known.

Crippling Industry

The serious epidemic of influenza and gripe is crippling the output from important industrial centers. Hospitals are crowded, doctors are working throughout the day and night to stem illnesses.

One American doctor who has a large public health practice in London declared emphatically that susceptibility to attack was due to the badly balanced diet the present scale of food allows the average Briton.

The health ministry says that the outbreak came to Britain from the Scandinavian and low countries and that seamen were the obvious carriers of the flu virus. In the thickly populated areas around Liverpool and Newcastle, two ports dealing mostly with Scandinavian seaborne goods, the virulence of the disease is greater and more intense than in the countries of origin.

Worst Season

Dr. Frank Gray, secretary of the London medical committee, who is the only doctor permitted by the medical association to speak for quotation, declared on behalf of his 6,000 medical members that in normal circumstances the epidemic would not be serious.

Dr. Gray said:

"The trouble is not the virus but the patient. 'Anyway, this is the worst season for illness. There was a very cold spell just before Christmas, and now there is a fuel shortage.

'Added to this are the strains and worries which reduce the patient's physical resistance—things such as the fear of another war and the imminence of the call-up for national service.

Irv Noren Will Get Salary Boost

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Irv Noren, prize rookie outfielder of the Washington Senators, will receive a pay boost this season.

Noren said at his home in Pasadena yesterday the offer came in a personal letter from Senator prexy Clark Griffith.

He declined to tell the size of the raise but it was estimated the new contract will put him in the $15,000 to $18,000 a year class.

Noren went to Washington from Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league. Griffith tore up his contract in midseason last year and doubled his rookie pay, which usually is from $5,000 to $6,000. He also was given a $1,000 bonus at the end of the season.

WHEN YOUR FRIENDS COME 'ROUND TO CALL—PASS THE TREAT THAT PLEASES ALL... WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT!

The 1950 fielding statistics reveal that Marion, the Cards new manager, doesn't have to go far to find his shortstop next season, providing that the operation on his ailing knee is a success. Because, according to the figures, bad knee, bad back and all, the octopus was the league's number one shortstop. Marion managed to get into 101 games. He fielded 978, accepting 504 chances and committing 11 errors.

Huge Navy Base Being Built In European Area

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The Navy announced today that it has launched construction of a huge base—"somewhere in Europe."

Explaining the location of the project must remain a security secret, Navy sources estimated its cost at $23,316,000—half of which has already been appropriated.

The new base will serve as an overhauling and supply base for naval units patrolling eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean waters.

All ships in the Sixth Fleet, now operating in the Mediterranean, must cross the Atlantic every three or four months for repairs and supplies.

The Navy expects the new base, which may be completed in 1953 to provide a much more "efficient and economical arrangement."

It added that some of the facilities of the European base may be available by 1952.

Chorus Festival Will Be Presented In Ellwood City

Ellwood City will be host to the All-State Chorus Festival which will be held at the Lincoln high school auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings, February 9 and 10, at 8:15 o'clock. This activity is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Music Educators' association, with Paul Gehm, director of choral music at the Lincoln building, to be host to the group while they visit Ellwood City.

However, some students will begin arriving on Wednesday evening, February 7, and will not leave the city until Sunday, February 11, due the distances which they must travel. Rehearsals will be held all day Thursday and Friday of that week in the Lincoln auditorium.

Guest Conductor

Guest conductor will be the accomplished John Raymond of Lafayette college, Easton, Pa., who is also associated with Fred Waring in musical work.

It is an honor for the festival to be held in the county, as the chorus visits western Pennsylvania only once in every four years. The host school is selected by a bid from various schools, with an executive committee choosing the site of the festival. The state is divided into nine districts, with 1600 students having participated in the nine district festivals. From this number, 218 students were selected to represent their schools in the All-State Chorus Festival.

TRADE SECRET

LONDON—(INS)—The British ministry of supply gave away a trade secret in its order banning the use of zinc or copper in production of non-essential items. On the non-essential list was "antique metalware."

BRINGING UP FATHER

By GEORGE McMANUS

Patent Is Granted To Frank J. Witte Of Ellwood City

On December 26, 1950, the United States Patent Office granted patent number 2,535,979 on a "mechanism for ejecting articles from elevators" to Frank J. Witte, Ellwood City, Pa.

This invention pertains to apparatus upon which elongated articles can be conveyed in the direction of their length, and then lifted and automatically ejected sideways onto a fixed skid after they have been raised to the height of such skid. Ordinarily, these steps have been performed manually, with the result that operations have been slow, and it should be noted that equipment of this type is adapted particularly for handling pipe sections in connection with upsetting machines in which pipe ends are processed preparatory to threading.

To overcome the limitations of their prior practice, Mr. Witte has devised a novel mechanism consisting essentially of a number of vertically moving lifting elements is raised and lowered by means of some suitable power source located preferably beneath the floor of the mill. The upper end of each lifting element has a U-shaped fixture which supports a grooved rotatable roller, and the pipe or other elongated article is positioned on such roller by longitudinal movement. Each of these elevator assemblies is adapted for simultaneous travel with respect to each other and is set up in alignment alongside a fixed skid.

As the particular feature of Mr. Witte's construction, a lever and chain are mounted in conjunction with the aforementioned U-shaped fixture so that, as each lifting element is raised, its associated lever is caused to pivot until, eventually and at the proper height, the pipe section is pushed thereby onto the skids. As the lifting element is lowered, a counter weight returns the lever to its starting position.

It is claimed that the arrangement of this invention renders fully automatic a job that is ordinarily performed manually.

The application for this patent, which consists of two claims of originality, was filed on January 18, 1949.

Refunds In Income Tax Payments Are Being Made Rapidly

Stanley Granger, Collector of Internal Revenue, for the Western District of Pennsylvania stated today that his office is now reaching the record established in the Nation last year in refunding money to taxpayers in this district.

The Collector stated that 94,756 taxpayers are in the process of receiving or have already received checks totalling $4,399,573.52. Last year at this time 94,748 taxpayers received checks totalling $4,646,131.00. The checks are averaging $46.42 per taxpayer as against last year's $49.08.

The Collector again urges the Employers throughout the District to get the Withholding Statements to the employees as he is desirous of maintaining the record established in his office.

ENGAGEMENT PRESENTS

"My fiancé and I would like to thank our friends and relatives who gave us presents at the recent announcement of our engagement. Is it proper for us to write our thanks on informal notes engraved with both our names, such as: Mary and John or should notes be written on informals with just my name? If this latter is correct, is it permissible to use the "Miss" before my name on the face of the informal?"

Answer: Before her marriage every bride-to-be owns outright every gift presented—both engagement and wedding, so consequently she alone writes the thank-you notes. In her wedding gift thank-you notes the bride-to-be usually brings her fiancé's name in by some such reference as: "Bill and I are delighted with the beautiful silver vase which you and Mr. Smith sent us, etc." No such reference is necessary or usual in thank-you notes for engagement gifts. Leave the "Miss" intact on your informals.

Question: May I have two matrons-of-honor and no bridesmaids at my forthcoming wedding? (2) What is the correct attire for the bride's father and the bridegroom at a Sunday afternoon chapel wedding? (3) Is it necessary for the bride's mother to wear a hat with a long gown?

(1) You may eliminate bridesmaids and have two matrons-of-honor, both dressed alike and walking together; however, only one will be able to assume the duties involved—holding your flowers at the ring-placing in the ceremony, arranging your veil and train both before and after the ceremony. The duties of the other girl will merely be nominal. Then, too, the former will be the one chosen to stand by your side.

(2) Preferably the men of the wedding party, including the bride's father, should wear cut-away coats and striped trousers at a wedding in which the bride wears traditional bridal attire.

(3) Your mother should wear a hat.

EDUCATOR STATUE

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla.—(INS)—Preparations are being made for the unveiling in 1951 of a sixth statue of a prominent western hemisphere educator in the famous Grove of Educators of the Americas in St. Augustine. Conceived by former State Senator Walter B. Fraser, chairman of the Inter-American Center of Florida, the grove is situated next to the Oldest Wooden School House, and is dedicated to renowned teachers who have contributed most to education in their own countries in North America. The United States is represented by a statue of Horace Mann.

The limestone caves of southern Africa are thought by some to have been the birthplace of the human race.

GENIE SHELF

NEW YORK—(INS)—In the busy days to come, you probably will be caught in a pinch more than once at meal time. It's at times like this when you'll thank your lucky stars for a well stocked canned meat "genie shelf." A "genie shelf" consists of quick, ready-to-eat canned meats such as tangy frankfurters, tender ham and spicy chili con carne. These may be served as they are or combined with other foods, according to your whim.

Titans Will Battle Thiel Tomcats At New Wilmington Tonight

Blue And White Passers Seeking Eleventh Victory

Tudor Lewis comes back to Westminster college tonight, where he won basketball greatness two decades ago. But he comes as coach of the Thiel college Tomcats, tonight's opponents of the high-flying Westminster basketball five.

Game time at New Wilmington is listed at 8:15 p.m.

In Lewis the Westminster Titans meet one of their school's all-time greats. The newly-appointed Thiel mentor starred on Westminster's championship teams of 1929 and 1930, under John Lauder. He became the college coaching this year after 10 years' success at Farrell high school.

Must Stop Riley

The Westminster Titans must stop Lewis' high scoring Lloyd Riley if they are to cop their 11th victory of the season. It was Riley who dumped in 40 points against Geneva college last week as the pesky Thiel Tomcats almost pulled a major surprise in district basketball. Also there is Bill Dunder, the Sharpshooter freshman who starred against the strong W. & J. team in another near upset.

The Lewises bring a record of 4-4 record to the Westminster floor, but they're on the upswing. Their last outing was the surprising 79-73 defeat by Geneva. Before that they had won two in a row, 71-66 over Bethany of West Virginia and 70-66 over Allegheny.

Westminster will open with its regular lineup, as the Titans prepare for three big contests coming up. Next Tuesday night the Titans meet tough St. Francis of Loretto at Loretto. Then come Pitt and Duquesne on Feb. 5 and Feb. 8 respectively, at the Farrell high school gym.

Jack Cloud, former William and Mary fullback, now with the Green Bay Packers, is afraid that he may have to have another knee operation similar to that which slowed him during his junior year at W. & M. He hurt the same knee in an early season game with the Packers this year.

Drive in and have your car inspected now. Inspection period ends Wednesday, Jan. 31st.

Floor Scandal Hearing Today

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(INS)—A court hearing for five men charged with bribery and conspiracy in the Manhattan College basketball "fix" scandal will be held today.

It was put off from Wednesday at the request of the district attorney's office, which said it wanted more time to prepare evidence against former Manhattan players Jack Byrnes and Henry Poppe and three men described as gamblers.

Pulaskis Trimmed By Sharon Quintel

The Sharon CIO team turned the tables on the K. Pulaski Big Five last night at the K.P. floor, winning 73-69 after the Teddy Koler five had laced them at Sharon.

The locals led at the half but faltered in the stretch. The winners were accurate at the foul line, getting 11 out of 11 tries.

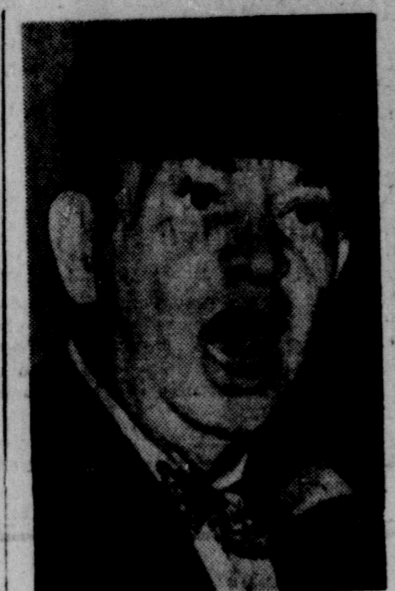

In the prelim the Pulaski Cubs whipped the Y Youngsters 45-27. Sunday the Pulaskis will meet the fast Slippy Rock Clowns at the K.P. Hall at 3:15 o'clock following a prelim at 2:15 o'clock that will find the Pulaski Cubs meeting the Falcon Reserves.

Wawcynski Head Of Shenango Youths

Ronald Wawcynski was elected president of the Shenango Junior Sportsman's club at a recent election. Other officers named were as follows: vice-president, Robert Kalajainen; secretary, J. Perdue; treasurer, Robert Des; chairman of membership committee, Harold Kelly; and chairman of social committee, Raymond Mayors.

Coon Hunters are the sponsors of the club. The junior organization is committed to the pleasant click rearing program of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association.

MIAMI BEACH, FLA.—Bill Klien, the 78-year-old most-celebrated umpire of them all, is in "critical condition" and doesn't have many innings left to go. Bed-ridden with increasingly serious heart and kidney ailments, the "Great Arbitrator" may, according to his doctor, last only two weeks at most.

Wilt-Gehrmann Race Saturday

Wilt Adopting Brand New Style

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(INS)—G-man Fred Wilt's determination to change his style of running may result in a near-record clocking for the Wanamaker mile tomorrow night in the Millrose games at Madison Square Garden.

Wilt, up against his perennial tormentor Don Gehrmann, is said to have decided there is only one way to overcome the terrific finishing kick that has given Gehrmann 35 mile triumphs in succession, dating back to 1948.

That one solution would be to set such a scorching pace for the first three quarters that Gehrmann literally has the finish run right out of him.

May Set Record

If, by the same token, Gehrmann can keep the pace and his final kick as well, the records may be in danger. Gil Dodds' 4:05.3 stands as the world's indoor mark at the mile. Should tomorrow night's pacesetter go three quarters in 3:03, a 62-second final quarter for the sprinting Gehrmann would spell a new mark.

Many track officials think that 3:03 for six furlongs is not too much to ask of this year's Wanamaker field, which besides Wilt and Gehrmann includes Ingvar Bengtsson, Len Truex and John Twomey.

United Will Battle Sunny Arners Team At Y.M.C.A. Tonight

Sunny Arner's team from Sharon, currently in a league tie there with the Twin City Elks, will battle the United Engineering team in the Y. M. C. A. at 9 o'clock, following the regularly scheduled church league games.

At 7—Third U. P. vs. Central Christian.

At 8—Wampum vs. First Congregation.

Bessemer Only Section 23 Team Scheduled Tonight

All Section 23 basketball teams—with the exception of Bessemer—are taking a rest tonight after completing the first half of the league race.

Bessemer travels to Evans City for a non-league encounter. The first half of the section race ended much the same as most county fairs expected—with Wampum on top. The Indians won all six league games and were pushed hard only once (by Mt. Jackson).

Surprise team of the county section for the first half of the season was Bessemer. The Cementers were able to defeat each team in the section except Wampum and still remain a strong contender.

Behind Wampum and Bessemer come East Brook, Shenango, New Wilmington, Mt. Jackson and Union in that order. Shenango, New Wilmington and Mt. Jackson have had more than their share of injuries and might prove a little tougher the second half.

Mt. Jackson had the toughest luck in league action, losing three of its games by one and two points and the other two by 10 or less.

Eddie Badger, Walt McGinnis and Dick Pitzer are raging a close battle for the scoring leadership, closely followed by Caesar Craine, Johnny Allen and Clyde Cummins. Some of the better floor work has been turned in by Darrell Rung, Jim Novalesi, Lou Ringer, Phil DeArment and Johnny Allen. Caesar Craine has had the boards almost entirely to himself.

Caps Climbing In Hockey Race

(By International News Service)

The Indianapolis Caps are working their way towards the top of the American Hockey League and a good spot in the Calder Cup finals as they battle to repeat as league champions.

After their championship team of last year was broken up, the Caps spent a good part of this season in the western division cellar but now they are only a half-game out of second place.

Top Springfield

The Caps snared their seventh straight game with a 3-1 victory over the Springfield Indians last night.

The Providence Reds also stretched their streak last night but theirs was a losing one.

The Hershey Bears handed the Reds their ninth straight setback with a 3-0 shutout. It was the Reds' first blanking of the season.

All of the teams are idle to-night.

Universals Swamp Youngstown Team Win 84-57 At YMCA

Twelve Universal players tallied last night as the locals ran over the Youngstown General Fireproofing team at the YMCA 85-57.

The Pottery team recorded win number 18, jumping off to a 22-13 first quarter lead and never falling behind.

Chuck Tanner and Rags Genneck hit early and often, and split 34 points between them. Wayne Zban used his left hand hook shot to advantage, scoring 26 points.

Geneva Gunning For Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Geneva goes gunning for its seventh victory of the season against Youngstown College to-night and the Covies aim to avenge a previous, 74-57, defeat to the home team.

Geneva Coach Cliff Aultman put it this way: "As I've said before, it's all a matter of attitude, and right now, my boys are rarin' for a win." Geneva has lost ten times during the season. Youngstown has nine victories in 14 games.

Elect Coen City Baseball 'Prexy'

League To Meet Again Next Month

Sheriff Frank Coen, former pitcher and at various times, manager of different baseball teams, was elected president of the City Baseball League at a meeting held last night at Carm DeLeone's shop.

Other officers named were: Vice president, Joe Augustine; treasurer, Carm DeLeone and secretary, Arthur Alexander.

Universal-Rundle, Lawrence Indies, Ecclesian club, Croton, DeCarbo Bombers, St. Margaret's and Franks were represented.

Fees, West Pittsburgh and Field Artillery (in military duty) were not represented.

Another meeting will be held in the middle of February, when franchise money put up in 1950, will be returned to team managers, after which they must decide whether or not their team will be represented this season.

Lawrence Indies won the 1950 flag.

One of the most unusual shot percentages in the nation belongs to Bill Chambers, William and Mary sophomore basketball star. Chambers leads the team in field goal percentages with 413, but is low man among the regulars at the free throw line with a 483 average in the Indians' first 12 games.

Ben Hogan Leads Field At Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Ben Hogan, back in the stride that made him golfdom's mighty mite, today paced a field of 122 into the second round of the $10,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament.

The Hershey, Pa., better returned to competitive golf for the first time in six months yesterday and fired a six-under-par first-round 33-32-65.

The feat put him a stroke in front of Lawson Little of Monterey, Cal., and Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich. Little shot a 32-34 while Harbert carded a 35-31.

Bunched back of them with scores of 65 were Johnny Bulla of Verona, Pa., Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago and Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N. C.

Hank A.C. Wins Tenth Straight

The Hank A.C. basketball five made it 10 in a row last night by dumping the Struthers Legion team 69-41 at the Franklin High court. The Hanks led at the first period 20 to 11 and at the half 38-23.

The Al Gonet coached Hanks will seek to make it 11 in a row Saturday night by meeting the strong East Brook Boosters at the East Brook High floor in what could be their toughest test of the season to date.

Canes At Vandergrift In Second Attempt To Win From Blue Lancers

New Castle cagers will seek revenge at Vandergrift tonight against a Blue Lancer team thwarted in three consecutive attempts to gain a victory.

Coach Oscar Schneider's pupils won seven of eight pre-league games, including a 53-50 win here at New Castle. The loss here was the first inflicted on the locals and resulted when the play of Eugene Tardivo and Herk Rowe piled up an insurmountable lead of 16 points as late as mid-third period.

Tardivo and Rowe, both standing 6'3", will be fed by mates, Crossan, Rashlatoe, Ceraso, Prescott and Watterson. The Vans have dropped league games to Butler, Ford City and New Kensington.

after winning from Kittanning and Har-Brack. Ellwood City rallied in the last quarter to win from Vandy in a pre-league game, 40-39.

New Castle now owns a season record of eight wins and five defeats, but three setbacks have been handed them by league teams. The Canes have dropped league games to Farrell, Aliquippa and Sharon and have won from Ambridge, Beaver Falls and Ellwood City.

Milanovich will undoubtedly go along with Sansone, Boak, Latsko, Buckner and John McKay, the surprise starter, who exhibited remarkable marksmanship in leading the Canes scorers against Ellwood City. Also destined to play more ball is Conrad Palumbo, whose spot performances have helped the locals considerably.

New Castle Jayvees, winners in 10 of 13 games, will take on the Vandy reserves in the preliminary. League play will resume next Tuesday when New Castle battles the first place Farrell team.

NBC Endorses Happy Chandler

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 26.—(INS) The National Baseball Congress voted unanimously in Chicago today to endorse A. B. (Happy) Chandler as Baseball Commissioner despite the refusal of professional baseball executives to renew his contract.

Congress President Ray Dumont said: "Not only the commissioners but the managers and players in non-pro baseball are appreciative of what Chandler has done for them during his tenure of office. He went out of his way to open tournaments in small towns just because he liked baseball and liked to create baseball interest wherever possible."

Rickey Selects Deland, Florida, As Rookie Site

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—General Manager Branch Rickey today selected Deland, Fla., as the 1951 training site for Minor League clubs owned by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The camp will open March 12 and operations will be along the lines Rickey used with the Brooklyn Dodgers farmhands when he was in charge of that club.

A formal Naval air station will be utilized for the camp. Clubs involved are New Orleans, Charleston, S. C., Waco, Tex., Bartlesville, Okla., Brunswick, Ga., and Salisbury, N. C.

Clubs having working agreements with the Pirates will be invited to join the activities. The Pirates themselves will return to San Bernardino, Cal. However, it is expected they will transfer to Florida in 1952.

Leo Durocher Happy About Managing Of 1951 Giants

By BILL CORUM
(L. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—There's still one optimist around. It could be that he's the most optimistic fellow in the U. S. right now. Anyhow, we haven't met anybody in some time as full of run and high spirits as Leo Durocher was when we talked to him last evening.

Toots Shor said, "I want you to meet the manager of the world's champions of 1951." Whereupon, Leo got on the phone and agreed, "That's the man you're talking to."

He then went on to say that everything was breaking just right for him and the Giants at the moment.

"We've got twenty-seven, twenty-eight, of our players already signed. All our fellows seem to be happy and feeling good and anxious to get to camp. We're even going to train at the training camp of world's champions, the Yanks and Cards, in St. Pete. Which could be a hunch."

"Anyhow, I'm crazy about this team. Have to pinch myself sometimes to believe how lucky I've been to get to manage it. In New York and for an owner like Horace (Stoneham), too."

"Right now it doesn't look as though we were going to be hit too hard by the draft, although I know that can change between now and next summer. But I'll start worrying about that when it happens."

"I don't have to tell you that there was a time when all the breaks seemed to be going the other way for me. Now that the tide has turned, I'm going to enjoy it as long as I can."

Konstanty Has 'New Pitch'

Sisler Balks Over Contract

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Jim Konstanty, who set a modern record by pitching in 74 games last season, has something new up his sleeve.

Fireman Jim reported to the Phillies bosses that he has perfected a new pitch, which will "astound the men in spring training."

He described it as "something like my slider but it breaks faster and not quite as much."

Sisler Balks. Konstanty said he will continue to use his palm ball, curve, slider and fast one. His new pitch, he explained, "is something extra I'll have up my sleeve when I think the others are not working as they should."

Meanwhile outfielder Dick Sisler, whose homer on the last day of the season assured the Phils of the National League pennant, returned his contract unsigned.

"We've just had a little disagreement over a few thousand dollars," said Sisler. He is believed to be seeking $15,000.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

BRANCH RICKEY of the Pirates hopes to build the Pirates into a 1954 pennant winner, according to Les Biederman who writes in All Sports News that Rickey told him: "I do not look at the color of a man's skin when I am looking for ball players. We are already scouting for Negro players. If we find one or more, it is a cinch they will be signed." . . . Argentina Rocca flopped Ivan Rasputin twice Thursday night in Chicago's Rainbow Gardens. On the previous Friday Rocca and Don Eagle grappled 60 minutes without a fall, it being called a no-decision contest. . . . Johnny Bratton stopped Bobby Dykes in Chicago several nights ago. . . . Jack Jensen says he wishes he knew whether Casey Stengel of the Yankees is going to use him as a pitcher or outfielder in 1951. Jensen declares sitting on the bench saps his nervous energy. . . . Charlie Dressen believes that power and speed make his Brooklyn Dodgers the team to beat in the 1951 National League race. The new Dodger manager managed Oakland which won the 1950 Pacific Coast loop pennant. He added: "If we can get any kind of pitching, I do not see how anybody can get too close to us because we have the best run-scoring machinery in baseball in the Brooklyn club." . . . Pittsburgh's Ossola A.C. basketball quintet, composed of former high school basketballers, seeks games here. Call Baron-tini, Fieldbrook 1-7904, or write 2727 Broadway, Pittsburgh. . . . "Ollie" Earl, who passed away recently, was one of the mainstays in the Lawrence County Baseball league in the early 20's. . . . Wonder if Eddie Conner, "Doc" F. E. Eakin et. al. who played on the 1904 New Castle High grid eleven, recalls the April 22, 1904 Minstrel show which was staged to buy uniforms and equipment? . . . What has happened to all of the guitar and mandolin playing barbers? . . . There are 900,000 acres of state game lands in Pennsylvania, purchased largely with funds paid by hunters for licenses. The state's research program has trebled in the last four years and game management has been materially influenced by recommendations of the researchers. At present, the Game commission is cooperating with the U. S. Forest service at the Allegheny National forest. The commission is paying for food and cover crews which are improving wildlife habitat. . . . This Speaker has a life-time batting average of .345. He was known as "Eagle Eye." Haven't seen Pat Hennessey along the Main Stem for some time. He must be hibernating. . . . Johnny McKibben, the ex-masseur, is yet confined to the JM hospital with a fractured hip. . . . Bob Knarem of Harlansburg is a connoisseur of butternuts, having knowledge of where every tree in the county is located. . . . General Douglas MacArthur was born 71 years ago today.

Brown-Crisler Are Eliminated From USC Job

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The names of Paul Brown and Fritz Crisler were dropped from consideration today in the Southern California football coaching derby.

Fred D. Fagg, president of the university, said Brown, coach of the professional Cleveland Browns, and Crisler, Michigan athletic director, are no longer under consideration for the head coaching job. Still heading the list of "candidates" are Missouri's Don Faurot and Boden Wyatt, single-wing exponent from Wyoming.

Just when it seemed people were about to lose patience listening to Frank Leahy moaning how Notre Dame might lose to Purdue and Indiana, Notre Dame went and lost to Purdue and Indiana.

Cubs and White Sox Sign Up Players

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The Chicago Cubs and Chicago White Sox each have announced the signing of two more players to 1951 contracts.

The Cubs said yesterday they have received signed contracts from first basemen Preston Ward, who batted .253 in 80 games last season, and Calvin McClish, right-handed pitcher who won 20 games for Los Angeles in 1949.

Latest White Sox players to come to terms were outfielder Gus Zernial and third baseman Floyd Baker. General manager Frank Lane said 25 of the club's 38 players now have signed contracts.

Penn State, host to the eastern intercollegiate wrestling championships again this year, last held this event in 1942.

Seek Title For Johnny Bratton

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Manager Hymie Wallman plans to ask the Illinois and New York Athletic Commissions today to recognize Johnny Bratton of Chicago as the new welterweight boxing champion.

Wallman announced his intentions after Bratton won a first round technical knockout over slender Bobby Dykes of Miami, Fla., last night at the Chicago Stadium. Dykes was floored three times before referee Johnny Behr stopped the contest.

Robinson To Abdicate. Welterweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson will abdicate his 147-pound crown if he beats mid-dieweight champion Jake Lamotta in Chicago, February 14, and Wallman wants to be certain his fighter is given "proper consideration." Illinois is a member of the National Boxing Association and the NBA does not require a fighter to relinquish a title in one division unless he wins a championship in another weight class.

Holahan May Get Commission Post

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Pittsburgh sources said today that John D. Holahan, general manager of the professional football Steelers, will be appointed to the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission.

Ball Reappointed
WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The Washington Redskins pro football team Thursday announced the reappointment of Herman Ball as head coach and said that Ball "is certain he can produce a winner in 1951."

said that Ball's reappointment was influenced by these four factors: (1) An overwhelming number of season ticket holders requested that he be retained; (2) his players were unanimously for him; (3) Ball asked for another chance; and (4) he is certain he can produce a winning team.

Stocks Are Discussed In This Article By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1951, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)
BABSON PARK, Mass., Jan. 26. —Have just telephoned an important brokerage house in New York City to ask its opinion on the stock market. The reply was: "We guess the market is finally getting high enough for the public to buy."

Look At the Record
The Dow-Jones Industrial Average struck a high of 381 in 1929; they fell to 41 in 1932; they rose to 194 in 1937; fell again to 93 in 1942; rose again to 212 in 1946, from which they declined until a few months ago. They are now around 245, the high for 20 years; but this statement applies to only 30 stocks out of over 1,000 stocks. Many good stocks are now selling for less than they did in 1946, or earlier. Many people say: "All stocks have gone up except those which I hold. What is the reason?" The truth is just the reverse of this. Only a very few stocks are selling at their "20-year highs."

All the above causes the wisest investors to be neither bullish nor bearish just now. They believe stocks are good for income, but not for speculation. The stock market is very selective and the war outlook is very uncertain—either way. We are now doing right to prepare actively for World War III; but it may not come for years. Our hurried preparations may be useless.

What Mr. Hoover Believes
Mr. Hoover apparently believes that, unless there is a revolution in Russia, all of Europe—war or no war—may, for a period of years, try communism and that no War III can prevent it. He also thinks that the Russians now have no intention of striking North or South America unless we attack Russia. He believes we should now avoid war and concentrate on strengthening the United States militarily, economically and spiritually until the Europeans unite and show an enthusiasm to fight communism. Under this Hoover policy our markets should hold up. If we should get into war with Russia and one or more of our cities are bombed, the stock exchanges would be closed to prevent financial panic. Everything—securities, commodities, rents, banks and wages—would be frozen. We would be ruled by a dictator and stocks would go down. Those who expect war should not buy stocks—certainly not unless they are very carefully selected by experts. Inflation, however, should help a few stocks.

Stocks vs. Homes
Certainly, anyone who does not own a house and an acre of land in a safe country village, should make such his first investment—war or no war. Many such places—well located, with water, fuel and neighbors—can be purchased today for one-third what it would cost to build them. I'm not advising their purchase for immediate occupancy; but for insurance and security.

Next, keep healthy, have a good bank account and a job which will give you a living. If you are dependent partly on investment income, then buy a very broad list of 30 stocks which have paid dividends for many years and which should give you about 5 per cent. If your local bank is unable to supply you with a list, the bank can send to me at 270 Washington street, Wellesley Hills, Mass., and I will freely send such a list to the bank for you.

Orders Rollback Of Cattle Hide Prices To Last November

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Price Administrator DiSalle sought to head off threatened shoe price increases Thursday by ordering a rollback of "15 percent or more" in cattle hide prices. DiSalle directed the hide industry to reduce its prices to the highest level prevailing between last November 1 and November 30 and ordered them frozen at that point until specific dollars-and-cents ceilings are worked out.

Stabilization officials said this would mean a rollback of 15 percent or more. They explained that hide prices have jumped sharply since the first of the year, rising an average of six cents a pound. Shoe manufacturers recently protested the increases to DiSalle and urged a rollback. They said that otherwise shoe prices would have to be raised.

DiSalle's rollback directive applied to cattle hides, kips and calf skins. It was the second price freeze order issued by the government. The first came last month and froze new automobile prices at December 1 levels.
